Kathy A. Cochran

Kathy Cochran has 40 years of trial experience. Over the course of that career, she has participated in hundreds of mediations in a wide variety of cases, focusing on medical malpractice and product liability matters. This experience has provided vast information on successful strategies in resolving disputes in high stakes cases, including individual cases and mass tort litigation as well as class actions. Her experience has included cases involving brain damaged children and adults, limb amputations, wrongful death, and disfiguring or debilitating injuries.
